Democrats Appear Solidly Behind Ike's Foreign Policies

Battle Over Home Issues Seems Sure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP) — President Eisenhower appears likely to get nearly solid Democratic backing for his present foreign policy course but can expect a battle in the opposition-controlled 84th Congress over power, tax, farm and some other domestic issues.

With his own party split over the handling of international problems, Eisenhower picked up strong support for his foreign policies today from Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that after a bad start climaxed by "the disastrous Geneva conference," he believes Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have "regained the initiative" with the help of Britain's decision to keep its troops on the European continent.

"That decision by Great Britain, agreeing to keep its military power on the continent for years to come, pulled the West out of the fire," Sparkman said. "Since then, the President and Dulles have kept the United States in a responsible leadership position."

"If they continue that, they will find the Democrats in Congress willing to shoulder their fair share of the burden."

Sparkman's remarks presented sharp contrast to recent complaints by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, that the administration has not been acting strongly enough against communism in either Europe or Asia.

Knowland has called for the severing of diplomatic relations with Russia and a naval blockade of Red China, neither of which the President has indicated he is willing to undertake at this time.

The GOP leader said yesterday that these and other differences among Republicans have been "overemphasized and exaggerated." Knowland told reporters he believes Democrats will give "substantial support" to the President on foreign policy matters and on many domestic issues.

Knowland said he does not believe the Eisenhower program will be as extensive as that presented to the 83rd Congress, and he said the lawmakers may be able to complete their work by July of next year, at the latest.

He said he hopes for early Senate action on the London agreements to rearm Western Germany, the mutual security pact with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa and the Manila agreement on a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Pontiff Blesses Persons Attending Consecration Of His Probable Successor

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 12 (AP)—A blessing from ailing Pope Pius XII closed the broadcast consecration today of the new archbishop of Milan, regarded in some Vatican circles as likely to succeed eventually as leader of the world's Roman Catholics.

Pope Pius listened by radio in his sickroom to the service at St. Peter's Basilica marking the elevation of an old friend and former Vatican prosecretary of state for ordinary affairs, Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini, 57. The service closed with a message the Pope had recorded yesterday:

Road Check Conducted By Game Wardens

A ROAD CHECK was mounted by game protectors at Delaware Water Gap Bridge yesterday as hunters started exiting from the county after close of deer season Saturday.

The road work was reportedly still going on last night. There was no round-up from game protectors as to the result of the check.

However, there were apparently some violators, because one man wound up at East Stroudsburg police station charged with transporting a deer unlawfully taken.

He was Frank S. Maier, about 35, New York City, who posted cash bond of $107.50 pending preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser of East Stroudsburg Jan. 8.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—William Henry Jr., an escaped convict wanted for questioning in the "phantom rapist" attacks on 13 women in Miami, was captured today by sheriff's officers.

Woman-Hater Confesses To Fatal Slashing

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 12 (AP)—Detective Capt. Ralph Murphy said an unemployed transient tonight confessed he slashed a woman's throat and killed her on a lonely downtown Toledo street because, "I don't like women."

Murphy said Thomas P. Leonard, 34, who came to Toledo a month ago from Harrisburg, Pa., will be charged with the murder of Mrs. Virginia Thayer, 36, mother of two. She was killed as she got into her parked car Thursday midnight.

The officer said Leonard, who was arrested Saturday night at a cheap Toledo hotel, confessed after three lie detector tests. Murphy said the confession appeared genuine because Leonard described details of the crime which had not been publicized.

Murphy quoted Leonard as stating: "Women have always laughed at me. They've always made fun of me and they're afraid of me because of my looks."

Leonard was traced from descriptions given by two women, one of whom had seen him loitering on the snowy street shortly before the crime.

The other woman had heard of the description and reported to police it fitted Leonard, who had called at her home asking for odd jobs. He had left his name and the address of his hotel.

Police who arrested Leonard at the hotel said he was hungry and cold and had no possessions except his clothes, $1.98 and two detective magazines.

Leonard, a short man with a hollow complexion and a hook nose, stated he had loitered on the street for two hours before attacking Mrs. Thayer, Murphy said. "I didn't want to kill her, I only wanted to cut her," the officer quoted Leonard as saying.

The officer said Leonard admitted he approached Mrs. Thayer as she was loading her parked car with gifts received at an Eastern Star officers' installation she had attended. Murphy said Leonard admitted he slashed at her three times with a knife. The first slash hit her hand and the other two cut her throat.

"Only the killer could have known her throat had been cut twice," Murphy said.

Mrs. Thayer staggered to a parking lot, where an attendant called police. She died a short time later in a hospital. Although conscious until her death she was unable to talk because of her wounds.

Second Grade Pupils To Get Salk Vaccine

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today announced plans to make the Salk vaccine available for all first and second graders in the nation—if last summer's tests prove it is effective.

Evaluation of the tests now being conducted at the University of Michigan, and the report is expected in the spring.

The foundation's new announcement added second graders to a previous list of those who will get the vaccine—if found effective—and removed pregnant women from the list.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers, the foundation said.

The health officers agreed to undertake administering the vaccine, if the foundation provided it, but urged that second graders replace pregnant women because of a higher "actual attack rate" among the second graders.

Killers Return To Finish Job

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Michael Russo, paroled burglar who survived last year after his "two good friends" took him for a ride and filled him with bullets, was found shot to death today.

Police said Russo, apparently the victim of another ride, and they believed his "good friends," who had been at large since the first shooting, had returned to finish the job.

The fugitives are Philip Rastelli, 36, of Queens, and Ralph Santora, 29, of Brooklyn. Russo, 35, who had served time for burglary and unlawful possession of guns, was found early today on a sidewalk in the Bath Beach section of Brooklyn.

Young Socialite Beaten To Death In Bed; Posse Searches For One-Shoed Intruder

BRINKLEY, Ark., Dec. 12 (AP)—Socially prominent Mrs. Milton Fuller, 28, was fatally beaten in her bed with a piece of stove wood early today and a posse of several hundred prepared for an all-night search for a tall khaki-clad man wearing only one shoe.

The search for the slayer centered early this afternoon around the community of Zent, Ark., seven miles north of this cotton country town of about 4,000 people.

State and city police and sheriff's deputies, along with the Brinkley National Guard unit, off duty firemen and volunteers plodded through a drizzling rain in 38 degree weather to comb the flatland area.

Police said Mrs. Fuller was attacked as her two small children, Mary Helen, 5, and Kathy, 18 months, slept in a nearby bedroom. Her husband, owner of the Bulch Agency here, was asleep in the living room.

Brinkley Police Chief Frank Henderson said three Negroes were being held in the city jail. State police said, however, that an initial pickup order issued for a Negro had been changed to identify the wanted man as white.

Henderson theorized that Mrs. Fuller was killed because she recognized the intruder. An empty purse was found about 12 feet from the house.

State police said their first description of the wanted man was furnished by two newsboys who saw him in the vicinity. An unidentified Negro woman, who said she saw a man running and looking back over his shoulder and about the estimated time of the slaying, substantiated the description, police added.

The Fuller family physician, Dr.

W. L. Walker, reported Mrs. Fuller had not been raped.

Fuller told police that he found his wife about 7 a.m., attracted to the bedroom by the thud of her falling from the bed. A light sleeper, he had awakened about 4:30 a.m., he said, gone to town for a cup of coffee and the morning papers, and had fallen asleep while reading them in the living room.

Mrs. Fuller died two hours later in the Brinkley Hospital, without regaining consciousness.

Bloodhounds and walkie-talkie equipped officers were being used in the search. The police pickup bulletin described the slayer as approximately six feet tall, wearing a khaki overcoat and only one shoe.

Brinkley is midway between Little Rock and Memphis, in the heart of the Arkansas cotton country.

NATO Leaders To Discuss Proposals

By Robert S. Allen
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 — Secretary of State Dulles is flying to Europe again.

It is for the purpose of attending a two-day (Dec. 17-18) meeting of the North Atlantic Council of Ministers in Paris. They will confer on a number of recommendations by the NATO military chiefs.

Chief of them are: Plans relating to the new German divisions that have been authorized.

Proposed large increase in NATO air forces. One plan calls for an additional 1,000 fighter planes by 1956.

The U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff strongly favor this. Adm. Arthur Radford, head of the Joint Chiefs, participated in the inner NATO discussions that resulted in this recommendation.

The NATO Military Committee will meet in Paris several days prior to the Council of Ministers. Adm. Radford will represent the U. S. on the Military Committee.

CIO Hits Taxing Policies Of Local And State Bodies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The CIO said today the nation's tax burden is "being shifted more and more on the shoulders of low and moderate income families," mainly through state and local tax policies.

The labor organization's monthly bulletin, "Economic Outlook," said that whereas federal taxes are "progressive" in the sense that rates rise according to ability to pay, most state and local taxes are regressive in that they take proportionately more "from those who are least able to pay."

The bulletin said that more than 50 per cent of all state tax revenues last year came from sales taxes levied on consumers, while only 17 per cent came from individual and corporate income taxes.

Hugh Gibson, Veteran Diplomat, Dies At 71: Headed Committee For European Migration

By LYNN HEINZERLING
GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 12 (AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, retired U. S. diplomat who became director of the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, died this morning shortly after arising for the day. He was 71.

The veteran diplomat, who had served the United States at many posts throughout the world until retirement 17 years ago and at dozens of international conferences, died at his home outside Geneva. His valet was helping him dress when Gibson suffered a heart attack.

Gibson's son, Michael, 25, who was on a visit to Paris, returned hurriedly to Geneva. Gibson's wife died four years ago.

(In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles said he was deeply grieved by the news, saying Gibson had been a close personal friend for many years.)

"Mr. Gibson was a man of unusual personal charm and wit and endeared himself to a wide circle of friends," Dulles said.

"The American people, will, I know, regret the passing of this great American who served his country under the most difficult conditions with distinction and honor."

Soviets Claim Veto Power Over Paris-Bonn Agreement

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (AP)—Investia said today the Western powers cannot settle the Saar problem without Russia's consent, thereby in effect claiming a veto power over the Paris-Bonn agreement to Europeanize the Saar.

A long article in the official Soviet government newspaper said the "Paris agreements concerning the Saar have no legal power, for they contradict earlier agreements reached by four powers (France, Britain, the United States and Russia)."

Investia added the recent French-German agreements were "concluded without the participation of one of these great powers—the Soviet Union. The question of the Saar is an indivisible part of the German question which can in reality be decided only with mutual agreement of the four powers carrying the chief responsibility for settling the German problem."

The article was part of a stepped up diplomatic and press campaign aimed at preventing ratification of the London-Paris agreements to rearm West Germany and include it in a Western European Union. It did not point out the French-German agreement on the Saar specifically calls itself an interim solution and says final settlement of that old French-German problem must await final disposition of the German question with Soviet participation.

The younger La Plante was listed as the discoverer of the fire.

Turner said conflicting stories told by La Plante to a newspaper reporter and to authorities led to intensive questioning of the boy.

Turner said the youth was saying he set the blaze in the four-story, wooden house because, "I didn't like the place and I told my folks so many times."

Young La Plante was booked on arson and manslaughter charges and held for hearing tomorrow morning in Central District Court.

Red Cross Sets Goal At $85 Million

Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Harriman said the fund drive will take care of a budget estimated to include:

1. $36,640,000 for service to the armed forces and veterans.
2. $14,287,000 to "assure prompt and certain delivery of blood and its derivatives to thousands of sick and injured."
3. $5,127,000 for disaster preparedness and relief, including an intensified mass-refugee training program recently begun at the request of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.
4. $6,435,000 for first aid, water safety and nursing training programs.

Seek Meeting With Reds On Airmen's Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—U. N. Officials spent today in anxious waiting for an answer from Red China on Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's request for a meeting in Peiping soon after Dec. 26 to discuss release of 11 American fliers and other U. N. military personnel.

At 6 p.m., 48 hours had passed since the secretary general's cablegram to Communist China's Premier Chou En-lai was confirmed received in Shanghai.

But a spokesman for Hammarskjöld said it was too soon to begin thinking about any deadline to mark failure of the mission given the secretary general by the U. N. General Assembly Friday.

Over Soviet bloc objections, the Assembly adopted a resolution condemning Red China for violation of the Korean armistice agreement in declining to return Allied military prisoners. The Assembly asked Hammarskjöld to do what he could to get them released.

Hammarskjöld sent his cablegram late Friday, in effect asking the Peiping regime whether he would be allowed to come there to plead the U. N. case personally with Chou. Saturday night, 24 hours after it was known the cable had reached Red China, he made the text public.

Without mentioning the condemnation feature of the resolution, Hammarskjöld informed Chou he felt a special responsibility in the case and asked him to set the date for meeting if Chou agreed to let him take up the matter personally.

It was also hinted here that whatever appeals could be made through Sweden and India to get a friendly answer from Peiping would not be overlooked. Hammarskjöld's nephew, Peder Hammarskjöld, is Swedish charge d'affaires in Peiping. India has an ambassador there.

But at a late hour Sunday there was no direct answer from the Communist regime, no sign of an answer through diplomatic channels, not a significant word on Peiping radio which often tips Communist China's actions.

Diplomatic sources in Washington said they thought Hammarskjöld's bid would succeed and that he might even win release of the fliers, whom the Communists accuse of being spies.

There was a chance that Peiping's answer might come as the Assembly's Special Political Committee debates tomorrow Russia's complaint that Nationalist China and the U. S. 7th Fleet are conspiring to harass Red Chinese and other Communist shipping in the China Sea.

The Assembly itself begins tomorrow what officials and delegates hope will be the last week of the session. Adjournment was tentatively scheduled for next Saturday.

Eighteen of the children, including the newborn, a five-pound 10-ounce son, are living.

Mrs. Oakley declined to be photographed, saying "there's nothing unusual about the size of my family."

Her husband, injured in a mine accident three years ago, has not been able to work since then. Workmen's compensation and aid from the State Dept. of Public Assistance plus some money earned by their eldest son is the Oakley's source of income.

Leader Pledges Government For People

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Gov. Elect George M. Leader of Pennsylvania says he will have a "positive administration working for Pennsylvania and for the people" of the Commonwealth.

Leader, who takes office Jan. 18, promised also last night that his administration would "pursue no vendettas and will do its best to be free from bias."

Leader, the first Democrat elected governor of Pennsylvania in 20 years, said he would not have an "anti-business, nor anti-labor nor anti-agriculture" government. Speaking to the 56th annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Society of New York he said:

"I intend to do the best job I can for Pennsylvania, and to do it, I will need the help of a great many people, people in both parties, people in all walks of life." He said that he was convinced the Commonwealth doesn't want "a narrowly partisan administration—doesn't want it from either party."

The 1,500 persons assembled in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria were mostly Republicans. He told them:

"I am convinced that the public officer who makes his first purpose to build an impregnable political machine is lost—lost morally and lost politically. . . . There are no impregnable political machines left in this country. The people smash a political machine the moment it becomes arrogant and self-serving."

Of the problems facing him, Leader said the state faces "an enormous job of redevelopment and reconstruction in urban areas and a major project in land conservation. 'As governor,' he asserted, 'I intend to use the full power of the state to summon all the energies of its public bodies into this work.'"

He said he would face the problem of a 60 million dollar state deficit from operations in the current biennium and also the problem of raising revenues to meet 300 million more in commitments of the present state administration.

The state government's internal problems, he continued, are "subordinate to the obligation we all have to protect the economic future of Pennsylvania and the employment of its people. . . ."

Fight Looms For Senate Leadership

HARRISBURG, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senate Republicans take the first step tomorrow toward opening of the 1955 legislature, with an open fight for the GOP floor leadership in prospect and the possibility of another developing over the post of president pro tempore.

Republican senators, composing a majority, will meet at Hershey Monday afternoon to select their floor leader, the president pro tempore and other senate officials for the session, opening Jan. 4.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany (Crawford) and Sen. James S. Berger (Potter) are opposing candidates for the Senate leadership. Mahany held that post in the 1953 session. Berger was chairman of the GOP Senate caucus.

While no opposition has developed to the re-election of Sen. M. Harvey Taylor as president pro tempore there were reports that Gov. John S. Fine was seeking to prevent it. Fine and Taylor, former GOP state chairman, have long been at odds.

U.S. Sen. James H. Duff with whom Taylor has been aligned since the days Duff was governor, said in New York over the weekend, that it would be "a great mistake" for Senate Republicans to change the leadership.

Asked to comment on the reported move to oust Taylor as president pro tempore, Duff told a reporter:

"I don't want to get into personalities, but I think it would be a great mistake in view of the unsettled election to make more changes that would add to this unsettledness."

Technically, Republicans have a 27-23 edge over Democrats in organizing the Senate. But Sen. John Card Miller, Beaver, has indicated he will vote with Democrats in the 1955 session, which will give the GOP a one-vote margin of 26-24, just enough to pass bills. Miller is not expected to attend tomorrow's Hershey meeting.

The GOP meeting will be first of a series getting ready for opening of the 1955 session on Jan. 4. House Republicans, in the minority, will meet Wednesday, with Rep. Charles C. Smith (Philadelphia) speaker of the 1953 session expected to be named GOP floor leader and Rep. A. W. Johnson (McKean) as assistant floor leader. Johnson was floor leader in the 1953 session.

Democrats, controlling the house and in the minority in the Senate also are expected to hold their pre-session meetings this week at Stroudsburg RD 3; Christine Clark, Stroudsburg; Cynthia Middaugh, East Stroudsburg; Curtis Detrick, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Hedwig Reinhardt, Mount Bethel; Mrs. Helen Stine, East Stroudsburg.

Bad Check Charges Send Man To Jail

24 Warrants Issued Against Arthur Mink

OFFICIALS were ticking off worthless check charges by the dozens yesterday—all against one man in Monroe County jail.

He was Arthur M. Mink who gave his address as Stroudsburg Star Route.

Mink was jailed Saturday after arrest by Officer Travis Seese of East Stroudsburg.

A handful of the bad check warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg. Others came to the jail from Northampton and Lehigh Counties. Bonser said more warrants were in the hands of Monroe constables, and New Jersey authorities.

More than two dozen warrants have been issued in all, so far, Bonser said. The checks were written in sums ranging from $20 to $120, from about Aug. 16 to Sept. 1, Bonser said.

County jail records show these warranters listed and those before whom the information was sworn: Sgt. John Mazzeo, before Easton Justice of the Peace Louis Odenwelder; Donald W. Laudenslager, manager of the American Store, Stroudsburg, before Bonser; L. Cohen, Easton, before Alderman David T. Reihman there; Esther Edwards, Allentown, before Alderman Lloyd E. Grammes there; Thomas J. Somers, manager of Community Jewelers, Stroudsburg, before Bonser; Tony Sabatine, Cloyd Miller and C. Edwood Wintze of Stroudsburg, all before Bonser.

Justice Bonser said 24 warrants were issued in Pennsylvania—including some in the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre area, but that some charges are pending in Columbia, N. J. He said he was telephoned by the operator of the Columbia Hotel, who said he wanted to swear out a bad check warrant.

Bonsers referred the New Jersey man to a peace justice there.

Davies Declares Foreign Service Job Insecure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—John Paton Davies Jr., veteran diplomat fired a month ago, said today there is practically no job security in the U. S. Foreign Service and a candidate for a diplomatic career would be prudent to "know another trade."

Davies made this observation during an interview. In painting a grim future of prospects in the Foreign Service, he nevertheless expressed hope young men would continue to join the Foreign Service.

The American Civil Liberties Union said today the dismissal of Davies might produce "a conformity of thought" and "impair our foreign policy."

Davies was fired Nov. 5 by Secretary of State Dulles after a five-member hearing board unanimously recommended his dismissal as a security risk. No question of loyalty was involved. Dulles upheld the board's findings that Davies showed a lack of judgment, discretion and reliability. He had been cleared in eight previous loyalty-security investigations.

Overheated Stove Causes Fire That Levels Cabin

ECHO LAKE—Flames swept by high winds totally destroyed a three-room hunting cabin near here Saturday.

Marshalls Creek firemen reported the blaze occurred at about 11 a.m. Saturday. The cabin was located about one mile east of Tom-X Ranch and more than a mile off the main road through the area.

Owner of the cabin was Anthony Marcellus, a suburban Philadelphia contractor.

Richard MacDonald, assistant chief of the Marshalls Creek Volunteer Fire Co., said the fire was reported at 11:15 a.m. Saturday. He said the report was turned in by Marcellus' wife and sister.

According to the story told firemen by the two women, Marcellus and a brother-in-law had gone hunting early in the morning. They left their wives and one child in the cabin, MacDonald said.

A short time later the pot-bellied stove used to heat the cabin became overheated and the ceiling caught fire, the firemen's report said. The two women and the child left the cabin and went to the Marvin Hasler farm about a mile away to turn in the alarm, MacDonald said.

The company answered the call with all its trucks and equipment. When firemen arrived at Hasler farm, however, they discovered it was impossible to take large trucks and heavy equipment across a narrow, wooden bridge there.

Because of this only two smaller trucks were sent on to the scene of the fire, MacDonald said. The cabin was a mass of flames when firemen got to the scene, he reported.

Using available water from the small trucks, the firemen fought to control the blaze and had just about "knocked it down" when the 400 gallons of water in the two trucks was exhausted.

The ceiling of the cabin fell in a short time later and the structure burned to the ground, MacDonald said.

Firemen made another trip to refill the small trucks; came back and waited until the fire died down. The remainder of the time spent at the scene was used to insure against a possible fire in the woods surrounding the smoldering cabin, MacDonald said.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Like hitting your head with a hammer, a trip to the city is chiefly enjoyable by the fact that it's eventually over, and you can come home again. The crowds and the confusion, the traffic and the problems of parking are all aggravated in the city.

However, even a city has its human side. Like the signs on the corner waste cans, "We wish you joy this Christmas-tide. Place rubbish here. With the law abide." No fooling, that's what it said on every corner.

Then there were the big and little boys—the big boys of college age—each with a hand firmly on the shoulder of a six or seven-year-old answering questions, sixty to the minute.

However the trip was complicated in its later stages by the constant stream of traffic, heading down from the Poconos. Seemed at first like one of those summer Sunday nights with tourists heading home, but this was Saturday night in late autumn. The stream was so constant that you began to think in terms of mass evacuation. What was driving the whole population out of the mountains?

Finally, light dawned. The last day of hunting season, of course. Judging from the traffic there were a lot more hunters than there are deer in the mountains—who can now come out of hiding. Nobody's going to have even time to look at them these next few weeks.

Polio Rate Unchanged

HARRISBURG, Dec. 12 (AP)—The number of infantile paralysis cases in Pennsylvania this year is just about the same total as in 1953, the State Health Dept. reports.

With six counties still to report, Dr. Russell E. Teague, State Health Secretary, said Pennsylvania has had 1,471 cases this year. Only Bedford, Cameron, Clinton, Forest, Fulton and Montour have not yet reported their 1954 totals. During the year Philadelphia led in polio totals with 222 reported cases. The next five highest counties were Allegheny, 159; Delaware, 133; Lancaster, 104; Montgomery, 34; and Bucks, 59.

Teague said that the number of cases in those counties closely followed the population distribution.

In helping to prevent outbreaks of the dread disease, the department sent 46,247 ten-cubic centimeter vials of gamma globulin—a human blood derivative—to distributors throughout the state. Between 30,000 and 35,000 persons received GG inoculations.

An additional 6,000 children in Mercer, McKean, Centre and Clinton Counties were given the new Salk Anti-polio Vaccine as Pennsylvania's sampling in a cross-the-nation experiment.

Teague said no special evaluation has been made of the four areas as yet. He noted that results of the tests could only be valid when added to the nationwide totals. Results of the experiment are expected to be made public next year.

Ike May Change Voter Residence To Pennsylvania

GETTYSBURG, Dec. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower is reportedly preparing to change his voter residence from New York to this historic town where he is building a farm home.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower spent an hour and a half at their 189-acre farm yesterday while returning from their vacation mountain retreat near Thurmont, Md., to Washington.

They were accompanied here by a group of friends, who ate lunch with them in the spacious living room of the new home. Exterior construction of the farm home is about complete but the interior still needs much finishing. The house is expected to be ready for occupancy early next year.

Foundation Criticizes Tax Probes

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Rockefeller Foundation today criticized congressional committees for conducting what it called "repetitious" probes of tax-free philanthropic funds based on "loosely framed" charges.

"If the same individuals act in both accusatory and adjudicative roles, injustice is the almost inevitable result," said Dean Rusk, president of the foundation, in the organization's annual report.

Specifically referring to special committees set up by Congress in 1952 and 1953 to investigate foundations, Rusk said the right to obtain information for effective legislation is "well recognized," then added:

"Repetitious investigation imposes unnecessary burdens upon those under scrutiny and adds little, if anything, to the information of the Congress.

"Investigations which are basically accusatory in character may, in the absence of great care, exceed the proper role of legislative investigation and infringe the established rights and privileges of those being investigated."

The report said that "charges loosely framed or unsupported by facts" damage reputable citizens and institutions, then added:

"That the Congress itself is concerned about investigative procedures is a hopeful sign that common sense and the traditional concepts of government by law will be sustained."

RILEY

Sports Editor

WHILE LISTENING to Bill, better known as "Cy" Morgan, berate high schools for their treatment of baseball, this scribe could do nothing but agree with the veteran talent seeker who beats the bushes for the Philadelphia Phillies, once a power in the National League. Morgan made his views public at the Blue Mountain Baseball League banquet on Saturday night. The program was held at Otto's Grand View.

Morgan pointed out that baseball is the step child of the average high school athletic program. There are no hands, cheer leaders won't waste their time and many times a coach is chosen with the flip of a coin. We are quite fortunate in Monroe County and neighboring territories that each school provides a baseball coach. But we aren't fortunate in another way. We are as guilty as the next fellow for failure to give adequate attention to our scholastic baseball program.

Football and basketball draw the best attention possible, but baseball apparently is held dear only to give the school athletes something to do in the spring. Yet, as this column has pointed out several times in the past, we are depriving our youngsters the chance of making good in the best paying athletic career. In football and basketball everyone wants the home team to win. But in baseball only a handful care deep down how the local forces fare.

I thought that the development of Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball would stimulate the support given high school baseball in this territory. But, alas it hasn't. I believe there is more interest among the students now than there was five years ago. But officials behind the baseball program haven't worked as hard at it as they might. There are undoubtedly many reasons for the treatment of the diamond sport, including the fact that it comes near the end of the school year, when everyone is tired and looking forward to the long summer vacation.

Yet, the weather is warmer than during football season, there is no ice and snow to hamper traveling such as that which exists during the basketball campaign and the warming sun is a call to the great outdoors which every student should automatically heed. The turnout for opening practices throughout the area indicate that there is plenty of interest among high school boys, even though the spring sport must play third fiddle in the average high school athletic program.

Morgan pointed out that many youngsters receiving their first crack at minor league baseball are hampered by the lack of proper coaching. Many times the boy with less natural ability receives the call over the boy who shows promise but at the time is crude and ignorant of baseball facts. Many schools change baseball coaches each year and under a setup such as this student is bound to suffer. Often times good coaches don't have the time to work with boys, while other times, not in this area to the best of my knowledge, the coach doesn't care what happens to his club.

Although very few make the grade in professional baseball, football and basketball, the play in the former is still so far ahead of the other two sports that it isn't even comparable. Most of the time high school baseball team practice and play without learning the fundamentals of the sport, such as the proper position for fielding, the various ways of throwing and the proper manner in which to handle the tough chore of batting. A pitcher is usually chosen because he can throw hard and learns very little else during his scholastic career.

As mentioned above this is the national scholastic setup for baseball and doesn't necessarily reflect on anyone involved with the local diamond sport. Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Bangor play their home games at 4 p. m., which gives many people an opportunity to see their favorite sons play. It also keeps the players from missing too much class room time. The Monroe County League is forced to play its baseball games at an earlier hour because of traveling difficulties.

But, I believe that a Saturday afternoon game of two in this area would greatly stimulate the interest in high school baseball. There are several little stimulants which could be added to the spring sport in order to make it more inviting. The trouble lies alone with schools, as it is virtually the only sport which features one or more amateur leagues in the neighborhood—not only here but all over the United States.

LaSalle Escapes Wave Of Basketball Upsets

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press
NOW IS THE TIME for all good college basketball experts to revise their pre-season estimates.

For, judging by the results over the weekend, past performances will mean less than ever in the current campaign.

Five teams—Duquesne (No. 3), Iowa (No. 4), Holy Cross (No. 5)

Niagara (No. 8), and Notre Dame (No. 9)—tumbled by the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters as "most likely to succeed" were knocked off.

The LaSalle explorers, top ranked, in the first Associated Press poll, were expected to have a tough time with Niagara and they did, just managing to win 76-75—and in overtime, too.

Second ranked Kentucky also had its hands full before tripping Xavier of Ohio 73-69 for its 27th straight victory. Indiana, No. 6, proved Notre Dame's master 73-70, but not until after a torrid battle in the first of the nationally-televized NCAA series.

Seventh-ranked Dayton had an easy time with Bowling Green, winning 109-39 as did 10th rated North Carolina State with Eastern Kentucky, 66-53.

It was classy George Washington, kingpin of the Southern Conference which proved stronger than Duquesne to capture the fourth annual Steel Bowl 71-64. Joe Holup led the Colonials with 26 points as they raced to a 27-34 halftime lead over the Dukes, who played without the aggressive Si Green, out with an attack of appendicitis.

Missouri rolled up a home court record in upsetting Iowa 97-94, for its second victory in three meetings with Big Ten teams. The Tigers lost to Illinois and beat Indiana. Mark Pared paced the Missouri attack with 25 points.

St. John's of Brooklyn made 10 quick points in the opening minutes of the second half and went on to whip Holy Cross, the defending NIT champs, 93-73. Marty Satalino with 23 points—21 of them in the second half—led the way as the Redmen tossed in 60 points after the halftime intermission.

Bob Maples was the key man for LaSalle. His desperation shot out of a pile-up under the basket whipped through with only six seconds of the overtime left. The score was 68-61 after regulation time. All-America Tom Gola had 31 points for the winners. Ed Fleming had 32 for Niagara.

Indiana also had to come down to the wire to edge Notre Dame as Hallie Bryant's basket with less than 30 seconds remaining put the Hoosiers in front, 69-68, for the first time in the game. At one point in the first half, Notre Dame led 32-22.

Kentucky, although behind only once, had its toughest game since early 1952, in nipping Xavier. The Ochsens were within 70-69 in the final seconds but Gerry Calvert's basket sewed it up for the Wildcats. Kentucky's last loss was to St. John's in the 1952 NCAA tournament.

In Ivy League tussles, defending champion Cornell opened its league campaign with an easy 60-46 victory over Harvard as Jack Sheehy poured in more than half of the Big Red's output—33 points. Brown handed Yale its fourth straight setback 72-41 after gaining the lead late in the first half.

In a Philadelphia doubleheader, Villanova overcame a 17 point deficit to down St. Francis of Loreto, Pa. 76-71 and Penn defeated Muhlenberg 71-52.

In other games, Temple nipped Navy 59-55, Ithaca surprised Army 89-76, Pitt downed Fordham 71-65, Seton Hall whipped Wheaton 84-65, LeMoyne (N.Y.) nipped Western Kentucky 77-75, Penn State crushed Carnegie Tech 91-75, Kansas State tripped Wyoming 70-50 and Bradley whipped Iowa State 79-67.

The Pirates will play 30 games on the Grapefruit circuit. They'll meet Brooklyn, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the National League, and Chicago, Boston, Washington and Baltimore in the American League.

Lions Fall Before Bears

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE EVER-POWERFUL Cleveland Browns, completing a surging comeback after losing two of their first three games, clobbered the Pittsburgh Steelers 42-7 yesterday to win an unprecedented fifth straight Eastern division title in the National Football League.

Detroit hardly looked up to snuff in the way of a warmup for the two games against the Browns and suffered its second defeat of the campaign yesterday, losing 28-24 to the Chicago Bears. In other games, the Philadelphia Eagles knocked over the New York Giants 29-14 in a battle for second place in the Eastern Division and the Washington Redskins nailed the Chicago Cardinals in the Eastern cellar 32-20. San Francisco defeated Baltimore 19-7 Saturday.

The games closed the season for all but the Lions and Browns.

The Bears had a 21-3 lead over the Lions at the half on three touchdowns passes—two by rookie quarterback Zeke Bratkowski to end Jim Dooley for 26 and 8 yards.

Detroit rallied for three fourth period TDs, however, and it was John Hoffman's 19-yard touchdown run in the final quarter that clinched it for the Bears, who finished second in the Western division with an 8-4 record—their best since 1950 when they lost the division title in a playoff with Los Angeles.

All three Detroit TDs came on passes by Tom Dubinski, subbing for the injured Bobby Layne.

A crowd of 28,419, giving the Eagles their best season total (157,675) in four years, saw Pete Pihos tie the San Francisco's Bill Wilson for the pass receiving leadership at 60.

Washington's Al Darow clicked on four passes for TDs, three of them to Hugh (Bone) Taylor as the Redskins defeated the Cards in their finest offensive display of the season.

In the other game of the day, the Los Angeles Rams opened up in the final period to defeat the Green Bay Packers, 35-27. Fullback Dan Towler scored the first three Ram touchdowns, but quarterback Norm Van Brocklin set up the key score in the final period when he faked a punt and instead tossed to Andy Tobustelli, who ran 49 yards for the tally.

Scranton In Eastern Loop

HAZLETON, Dec. 12 (AP)—President William D. Morgan of the Eastern Professional Basketball League announced here tonight that the circuit's club owners have approved the transfer of the Carbondale franchise to Scranton, effective at once. All Carbondale players become the property of the new Scranton organization.

Barry Sherman of Radio Station WXCZ heads a group of Scranton businessmen who will take over ownership of the team which will be known as the Miners. The team makes its debut at the Scranton CYC gym next Sunday afternoon against the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Eagles Knock Giants Into Third Place In Standings

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12 (AP)—Two intercepted passes and a fumble helped the Philadelphia Eagles to a 29-14 National Football League victory over the New York Giants at Connie Mack Stadium, clinching second place in the Eastern Division.

The Giants, who entered the game with a slight chance of tying Cleveland for the Eastern title, wound up third in the final division standings.

New York needed a victory and two Cleveland defeats to deadlock the Browns. Cleveland won the Eastern title by beating Pittsburgh today.

The Eagles wrapped up the ball game in the first half when their defensive unit applied tremendous pressure to the Giants' young rookie quarterback Bobby Clatterbuck. The New Yorkers failed to complete a pass and were unable to get a first down in the first half which ended 21-0.

Pocono Manor Golf Pro Fifth In Miami Open Tournament

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—Bob Rosburg, a baby-faced 28-year-old San Francisco newcomer to bigtime golf, sank long putts all over the course today and won the $10,000 Miami Open Golf Tournament with a seven under par, 273.

1952 Olympic Champ Dies After Bout

BOSTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Heavyweight boxer Ed Sanders died today at Massachusetts General Hospital 18 hours after he was knocked out by Willie James in the 11th round of a scheduled 12 rounder at Boston Garden.

Death came several hours after the husky Negro sailor underwent a four-hour operation to relieve a blood clot on his brain, apparently brought about when he was knocked out in the bout for James' New England heavyweight title.

It was the second ring fatality in three days. Featherweight Ralph Weiser died after being knocked out by Teddy Hall of Vancouver, B.C., Friday night at Klamath Falls, Ore.

Sanders, the 1953 Olympic heavyweight champion from San Diego, Calif., who was serving with the Navy in Boston, was rushed unconscious to the hospital after Dr. Samuel Sandler, the Massachusetts Boxing Commission physician at ringside, said he was suffering "obvious considerable pressure on the brain caused by subdural hemorrhages."

The operation was performed by brain surgeon Dr. William Sweet. James, also a Negro, was shocked by the incident.

"I didn't think I hit him that hard," he said. "I've scored knockouts before where I hit the man much harder." James weighed 208½.

The 25-year old sailor, father of a 17 months old son, turned professional less than a year ago. Last night's bout was the ninth of his pro career. His young wife, Mary, was at ringside.

Crowe's Keglers Sweep Four

CROWE'S INSURANCE, East Stroudsburg's entry in the Delaware Valley Bowling League, swept four points from the cellar dwelling Fleas Club at Harmon's Recreation Saturday night.

It was the eighth straight point registered in the win column by the home team.

Jake Nittel and Jack Darr led the winning attack with matches of 625 and 589, respectively. Nittel came up with games of 195, 225 and 205, while Darr rolled 220, 167 and 202. Dick Anderson also hit a 210 for the host club.

"Chum" Gulluly, Paul Adams, "Dike" Fifth and Les Vogt bettered the 200 mark on one occasion each, but their efforts didn't change the tide of battle for the Fleas Club.

Crowe's club, almost certain to be in an improved spot in the standing, rolls at Harmon's Recreation again next Saturday. The Central Bowling Academy of Bethlehem supplies the opposition at 8 p.m.

Scores follow:				Wimbledon and Forest Hills and Davis Cup competition if selected on the team.

The Tulane University college champion was advised in a cable from his father late today that he had been named to a scholarship at Oxford University, England.

Philadelphia Scout Speaks At Banquet

PORTLAND — Team and individual champions were honored and Bill "Cy" Morgan, scout for the Philadelphia Phillies, delivered an inspiring speech here at the eighth annual Blue Mountain Baseball League banquet on Saturday night.

A crowd of approximately 150 people attended the annual affair held this year at Otto's Grand View.

Morgan, highly regarded scout who signed Curt Simmons, among many others, to a Philadelphia National League contract, spoke about the various problems facing major and minor league organizations in general.

The Philadelphia talent hunter also spoke on the manner in which baseball is abused by many high schools and the harm it does to the youngster with diamond talent and a possible future in the National Pastime.

Morgan also pointed out that circuits such as the Blue Mountain League are the backbone of baseball and without the continuance of this type baseball the great game is certain to suffer. "Small town rivalry can't be replaced in the national setup," Morgan said.

The guest speaker agreed that the rising cost of equipment and traveling have made minor league and amateur baseball difficult at the present time, but also pointed out that this brand of the great game must continue.

Morgan, who mixed several humorous yarns into his talk, finished by pointing out that baseball is still one of the greatest weapons in the fight against juvenile delinquency and the finest medium between father and son.

Armon Williams, secretary-treasurer of the Blue Mountain League, served as toastmaster and introduced all the guests present.

Woodrow A. Jones, circuit president, gave the welcoming address and also presented the pitching trophy to Bob Weiss, Martins Creek. Weiss won the top pitching honor with a record of 11 wins and two defeats. In order to qualify for the trophy a pitcher had to be involved in 10 decisions.

George Tedesco, vice president of the league, presented the leading hitter trophy to Charley Rotell, Tatamy outfielder. The veteran fly chaser finished the campaign with an average of .414.

Martins Creek, regular season pennant winner, received The Daily Record Trophy. Manager Olympio "Patch" Pacchioli, manager of the club, accepted the award presented by Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record. Pacchioli delivered a few brief remarks of thanks.

The league president gave the President's Cup to Tatamy for winning post-season playoff laurels. Chet Huber, Tatamy manager, accepted the trophy and gave a brief speech of thanks.

It was the second straight year that Martins Creek won the regular season crown and the second straight season in which Tatamy came up with the playoff honors.

Members of the Blue Mountain Umpires Association were introduced, as were all representatives of the various teams.

Rev. Floyd Shafer, of the Forks Evangelical and Reformed Church, near Tatamy, delivered the invocation.

A roast beef dinner was served.
